

1. (a) Northern Pacific Railroad is a company that shipped stuff around the states.(pg.178)
 - (b) Great Northern Railway is a company that pressured Congress to allow them to go on Indian reservation.(pg.172)
 - (c) James J. Hill was a railroad tycoon who built the Great Northern Railway(pg.175)
 - (d) John D. Ryan was president of the Anaconda Copper Mining Company.(pg.177)
 2. (a) transcontinental= all the way across the continent
 - (b) right-of-way= the legal right to cross someone else's property(pg.172)
 - (c) financier= investors who finance huge projects(pg.174)
 - (d) land grants= free land that the federal government gives to a company, an organization, or a state(pg.174)
 - (e) labor unions= organizations of employees that bargain with employers(pg.178)
 - (f) industrialize= developed its industries on a large scale(pg.183)
 3. The people wanted railroads so they could have quicker shipping.
 4. The major impact of railroads on Indian land were that the railroads took land away from the Indians.
 5. The Hi-line route was the great northern route through the great Montana plains
 6. The unique way Milwaukee powered their trains was by electricity to power their trains
 7. The people who worked on railroads were thousands of Asians and young single men.
 8. Trains affected the social landscape by giving easier and faster to get around the state.
- They also gave faster shipping.
1. The Indians gained free travel and they lost land.
 2. I think it would have probably not have grown because there would have been less transportation and shipping
 3. I think they were treated different because they were from a different place
 4. I think that if there were still railroads we would get to places faster.
 5. The advantages of a train were that you got to a and b faster. The disadvantage is it took up a lot of land
 5. I think that they didn't want to fight.
 6. I think that Pretty Eagle got mad that he got tricked
 1. They are replacing bridges because they are falling apart.
 2. Yes we have an old railroad at a friend's house