

1. The subject is about Montana and how harsh it can be.
2. The text describes the physical features of Nebraska's sandy hills.
3. The mood of the singer is probably sad and misses his home. The complaints are how harsh it can be.
4. I don't think they were because some people were from other places.